1. Types of Apps and Offering Terms

You may, in your sole discretion, elect to install and use Apps in connection with the Collibra Service. You are solely responsible for determining which Apps (if any) to use with the Collibra Service and assessing the suitability of Apps and their configuration for your purposes, and in all cases, you may only use Apps with the Collibra Service as they are designed to be used (as identified in the App’s listing).

The listing for each App may be published by either Collibra or a third party (in each case, a “Publisher”). The listing will also identify the category of offering for each App, the categories being Commercial Offerings, Partner Offerings, Collibra Supported Third Party Offerings and Community Offerings, as described below. Without limiting the disclaimers, restrictions or other provisions in the Terms or these Marketplace Terms, usage of Apps is subject to the license or subscription terms, privacy policies and other applicable terms attributable to the type of App, as explained below. You may not use an App if you do not agree to the relevant terms.

a. Commercial Offerings

“Commercial Offerings” are Apps purchased as part of the Collibra Service. Use of Commercial Offerings may be subject to additional fees charged by Collibra. Your use of Commercial Offerings is governed by the terms and conditions of your commercial agreement with Collibra for the purchase of the Collibra Service (any such agreement, a “Master Agreement”). However, Collibra does provide reasonable first and secondary support to customers of the Collibra Service in accordance with our Support Policy, it being understood that any target resolution times referenced therein do not apply to CSTP Offerings.
